These are the Times to Remember

This is the time to remember,
Cause it will not last forever.
These are the days
To hold on to
Cause we won't,
Although we'll want to.
This is the time
But time is gonna change.
I know we've got to move somehow
But I don't want to lose you now.

Sometimes it's so easy
To let a day
Slip on by
Without even seeing each other at all.
But this is the time you'll turn back to and so will I
And those will be days you can never recall.

This is the time,

Student Life

Behind these pages are the secrets to Weston High School during the year 1994. You'll see everything from the "Lifers" first day of kindergarten to the Class of 94's first day of senior year. You'll see seniors helping out freshmen on Frosh Buddy Day and the whole school participating in the Activities Fair. Who were the siblings in school this year? What were the coolest styles to wear or the most popular cars to drive? Open up and you'll see. You'll see who deserves the dedication and who we'll never forget because surely . . . .

THESE ARE THE Times TO Remember

Once Upon a Time

TOP ABOVE. Look at the bubbling enthusiasm of these first graders. Now they're excited seniors.

BELOW. Mr. Kattef's third grade class has certainly grown into fine seniors. Who do you recognize?

BELOW. Megan Davidson and Kristen Lonergan have always been pals.

ABOVE Ben Smith, Chris Melling, Gabe Sayer, Jamie Bishop, Josh Kattef, Julie Belkin, Courtney Shendorf and Ellen Walpert are having a blast at Julie's Bat Mitzvah.

Life Timers

What a journey it has been; from the very first day of kindergarten, when our mothers held our hands as we climbed onto the huge yellow bus, to graduation on the Town Green, the "lifers" have been through it all together.

In the Country School we learned about the letters and how to add, and fought to play the xylophones in Mrs. Anderson's music class. Our next stop on Alphabet Lane was the Woodland School; bus patrols, Wang-doodles, Bug Day, China Night, to playing four squares during lunch—we did it all.

How scared we were to go to Middle School. A real cafeteria, study halls, buts-up during recess, Sun boards with Mr. Stasik, Washington and Quebec, and the wrath of Doc Harris.

We finally climbed to the top of the ladder, and were thrown into a bigger pool. As freshmen we joined up with Mrs. Nick who saw from the start how great the Class of '94 was going to be at Weston High. We spent a day in New York, held the Wiz Dinner, helped out with Frostie, danced at the Henderson House, scrubbed cars, saw Michael Jordan play, had the best auction ever, took the dreaded S.A.T, recreated a truly enchanted Cinderella's Ball in the Town Hall, cooked hot dogs in the concession stand during football games, and did it all while bonding as a class.

The "Lifers" have been through it all together. The Class of '94 lifers are . . .

BELOW. Ben Smith and Tim Britton are dressed to kill. Everyone at Tim's 5th grade party died laughing.

LEFT. They've been together for all thirteen years of school—they are the Class of '94 "Lifers."

Time To Work

Prom Preparation . . .

BELOW. Nadine Fiebrich and Sheila Fawcett put the finishing touches on a banner. Good work guys.

RIGHT. O.K.? Where does this Cinderella go? Ask the hard working, incredible members of the Class of '94.

ABOVE. Stephanie Benotti and Linda Bentley had to put in long days of playing lacrosse and decorating the Town Hall.

It all began with making paper flowers and vines in Mrs. Nick's room during frees. What started out as the idea to make our prom into Cinderella's Ball, ended up being one of the most beautifully decorated proms Weston has ever seen.

The weeks before the Prom, although stressful and hectic, were a few of the best weeks the class of '94 has ever had. Everyone pulled together to create a medieval castle scene, filled with the mice and birds of the magical fairy tale. The regal pumpkin chariot graced the stairway and the legendary clock striking midnight held the place of honor in the ball room.

The decorations were certainly beautiful, but what will stick with us is the way we bonded together. Working side by side into the wee hours of the night, having paint fights, chowing down on ten-foot long subs, and laughing through it all.

Many thanks to the class and parents advisors for all their help!

BELOW. Fritz VonRumohr, Nick Madden, Ben Smith, Noah Gleason and Josh Kattef are excited to help with prom decorating.

ABOVE. Robyn de Lacy, Jeff Madison and Gwenn Tanski are three of the students who made the prom the best Weston has ever seen.

ABOVE. Glenn Troy, Keith Mohammed, Barrie Hardymon, Alex Lee and Mike O'Donnell wonder what they can spray-paint next. No guys, NOT Barrie!

Time to Celebrate

Cinderella's Ball . . .

The limos pulled up one-by-one, dropping their beautifully dressed passengers at the foot of the traditional red carpet. After eating at some of Boston's finest restaurants, we arrived at the Town Hall and were transported into a magical time of castles and fairies.

As we entered, we found students crowded in the entry way taking pictures, greeting friends and searching for their names on the two hand-inscribed scroll banners hanging on either side of the doorway.

Continuing upstairs, we enjoyed refreshments and wandered over the lighted moat into the castle courtyard to dance.

Although everyone had worked hard while constructing the prom, Jeff Madison and Annie Dempsey were awarded the honor of Prom King and Queen. Their court members included Kristin Lonergan, Gwenn Tanski, Rachel Scheier-Dolberg, Robyn de Lacy, Ben Smith, Glen Troy, Brian McShane and Noah Gleason.

Together we laughed, danced, took tons of pictures and had one of the best nights of high school. And just like in Cinderella, when the clock struck midnight it was time to leave, but not for the fun to end . . .

Cinderella's Ball was a great success and we'll remember it for many years to come.

LEFT. Sara Tanner, Jamie Bishop, Lucinda Hindmarsh, Jimmy Menzoian, Lisa Fagley, Chris Giampapa, Sheila Fawcett and Jon Shumaker could not have looked more stunning before the prom.

RIGHT. Do you think the Class of '94 is as cute now as they were eleven years ago?

Turning Back the Clock

Make Up For Lost Time . .

With empty book bags in hand, the students of Weston High arrive, anticipating a great first day. Smiles grace their faces as they greet teachers and friends they haven't seen since June. With memories of summer still fresh in their minds, each student begins the new year with different expectations. Some strive for academic success, while others remain focused on athletics and various outside activities.

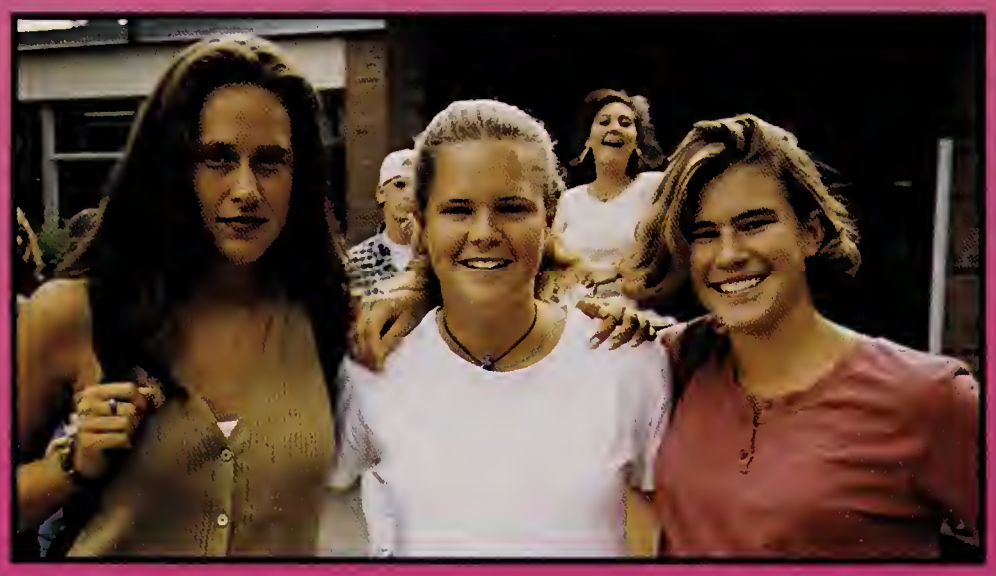
The freshmen arrive a bit unsure of their surroundings, but excited to begin their high school career. Sophomores enter with confidence, happy that they are no longer freshmen. They hope the inevitable "sophomore slump" will not catch them off guard.

Junior class members look forward to exciting events such as the auction and the prom, realizing that these moments will be quite a relief from the stress and hard work they will have become accustomed to.

Seniors are excited, but somewhat nostalgic, knowing this will be their last year together. Once the burden of college applications is over, they will be overjoyed and looking forward to graduation.

The first day brings mixed feelings to Weston High, but once the first week has passed, most students have formed their own opinions of the coming year. Summer becomes a distant memory for most, as they fill their empty bags with textbooks and count the days until the first vacation.

—Margaret O'Brien
—Jackie Chandler



ABOVE. Anne Boginski, Morgan Heintz, and Allison Vaughan are happy to be back in school. Wait until they get some homework!

First Day 1993

BELOW. Asa Gallagher, Kirk Grant, Garth Lippman, Quinn Ryan, Elysha McAllister, Rana Modarres, Abby Glovsky, Ellen Balabanis, Priscilla Torres and Bridgett Thompson are looking fine on their first day of school.

First Time Around

Freshman Buddy Day

This year, as seniors, the Class of 1994 started a new program to help ease the transition of the freshmen in WHS. Every senior who volunteered was paired up with one or two freshmen to look after.

As an introductory event, the seniors hosted a barbecue on orientation day to let the freshmen know who they were. Despite doubts that many seniors would show up a week before their senior year was to begin, many did and the barbecue went off without a hitch. It worked out nicely as a way for everyone to start recognizing each other's faces.

As the year started, the mere feeling of friendliness between the seniors and the freshmen contributed to what is being called the easiest transition in years.

The program is being continued with various buddy days planned around each major holiday with a theme having to do with that holiday, such as Halloween and Thanksgiving.

Much applause to all involved in the program, for it has been a great success. But, of course, what else could you expect but the best from the CLASS OF 1994!!

—Rachel Scheier-Dolberg

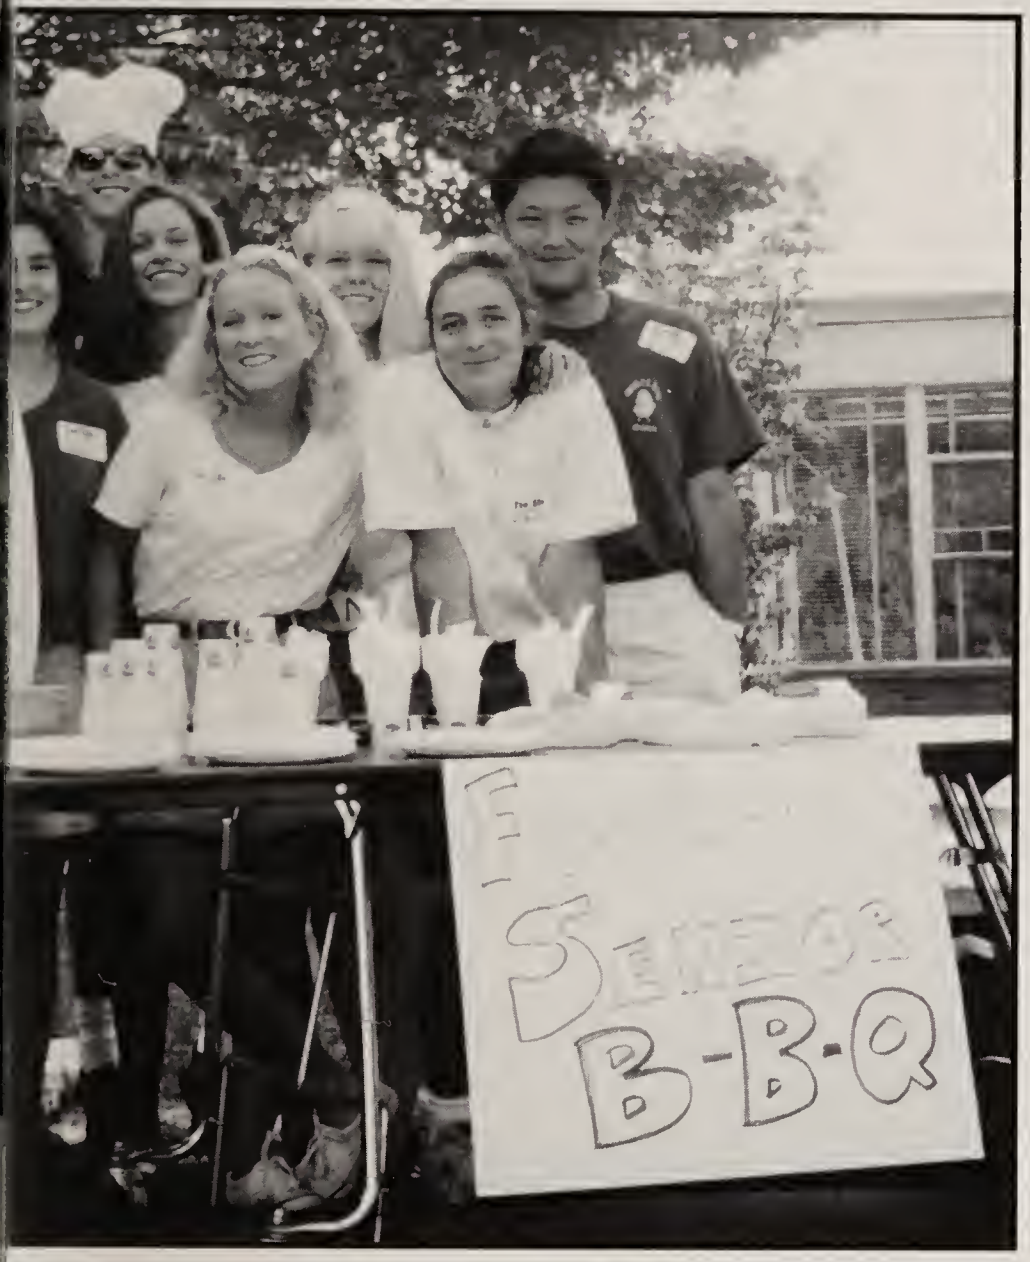
Pastimes

Activities' Fair



ABOVE. Josh Winston tries to convince Laurel Coppock to sign up for some more activities. "It'll be fun!"

BELOW. Senior class officers—Brian McShane, Mike O'Donnell, Nick Madden and Seth Wyman (along with a special friend) sell drinks at the Activities Fair.

ABOVE. Glenn Troy lets us know that anyone can join the Triathalon Club.

Changing Times

When you walked through the halls of Weston High School this year, you probably saw many things that made it different from any other time. “Where's the Tecmo Bowl tonight?” you may have heard a senior guy asking.

Bell bottoms, platform shoes, chokers and used jeans showed up on stylish females; while plaid shirts, hats and hiking boots were worn by both guys and girls.

Alternative music like Pearl Jam and Blind Mellon was more popular than ever, while an early eighties revival got the whole school rockin'.

Once again, jeeps pervaded the parking lot, and you could frequently spot them out on a run to Bruegers or Ernies for breakfast.

A few years back you'd have been laughed out of the caf if you wore your back pack double-strapped, but this year everyone seemed to do it.

The Class of '97 even gave us hope that one day pocket protectors might be cool to wear.

All of these things made up the trends at Weston High this year—who knows what next year will be like.

Ode To A Sibling

You walk by your sibling in the hall
Wondering if you should say "Hi" at all.

It may not seem so nice being in the same school.
But when you don't want to take the bus, it can be cool.

There's no need to take complete advantage of their presence,
But when you're in a real pickle, they'll help you feel less tense.

They're the only people who dare make fun of your style.
The stupid remarks they yell across the cafe make you insecure, but you smile.

There're many reasons you wouldn't want your sibling by your side all day.
But they can turn a dreary morning into one that's not so grey.

—Jackie Chandler
—Michelle Chandler

ABOVE. Caitlin and Mike Wysocki sure seem delighted to be together at Weston High.

ABOVE. And finally, for the fourth straight year, the dynamic Davidson twins grace our Sibling's Page. We'll miss you, Jen and Meg.

Cherish the Times

ABOVE. Mrs. Nickeson and Mrs. Smith are pleased that the Junior Class Auction was the most successtul auction ever held.

They Gave Us Their Time

The Class of 1994 has been successful in its fund raisers and in its willingness to support the class. We would like to thank the five people who helped make all of our activities successful. Without them our high school years would have been uneventful and certainly less successful. These wonderful people are our faculty advisors Mrs. Iona Nickeson and Mrs. Helia daCosta-Poremba; and our parent advisors Mrs. Joan Belkin, Mrs. Pat Gowdy and Mrs. Kitty Smith.

The excitement started freshman year with "The Wiz" dinner and selling refreshments at the fall play. Sophomore year, we ran the most incredible car washes and danced the night away at the Semi-Formal which we held at Henderson House.

Our junior year was fast-paced and packed with fun. We ran a record breaking auction, spent a "bonding" day at Henderson House and topped the year with our glamorous Cinderella Ball.

Senior year started with the Concession stand, followed by the Thanksgiving Pancake Breakfast and the Holiday Party. We are planning a spectacular Senior Banquet and looking forward to all of the graduation festivities.

Without our advisors support our fund-raisers would have been mediocre. We would not have gone to Water Country and Riverside; out for Chinese food, or to see the Celtics. We appreciate all you've done for us and we are looking forward to our "secret" graduation trip.

—Ann Gowdy

Dedication - Ben Sandalls

Ben Sandalls:

We all remember Ben as a smart, fun-loving, curious kid, who found pleasure in everything he pursued. Whether it be mastering computer programming at the age of eleven, reading and writing poems about his fantasies, playing baseball, drawing pictures, participating in Boy Scouts, or acting in the fifth grade China Night, he always tried to figure out everything to the best of his ability.

We dedicate this yearbook, and our high school career, to you and everything you stand for. You are not a memory; you are a friend.

—Peter Sayer

BELOW. Ben at three years.

"Lift up your eyes upon
This day breaking for you.

To your dream."

—Maya Angelou

To Ben's Friends and Classmates:

Congratulations on your graduation from Weston High School. Your memories of friendship and happy times with Ben have comforted us with the belief that his spirit has lived in your hearts as we have watched you grow into young adults. May you cherish these memories always as you look to life's challenges and adventures in the world beyond Weston.

Bill, Anne, Will and Katie Sandalls

Dedication - Bruce MacDonald

Bruce MacDonald:

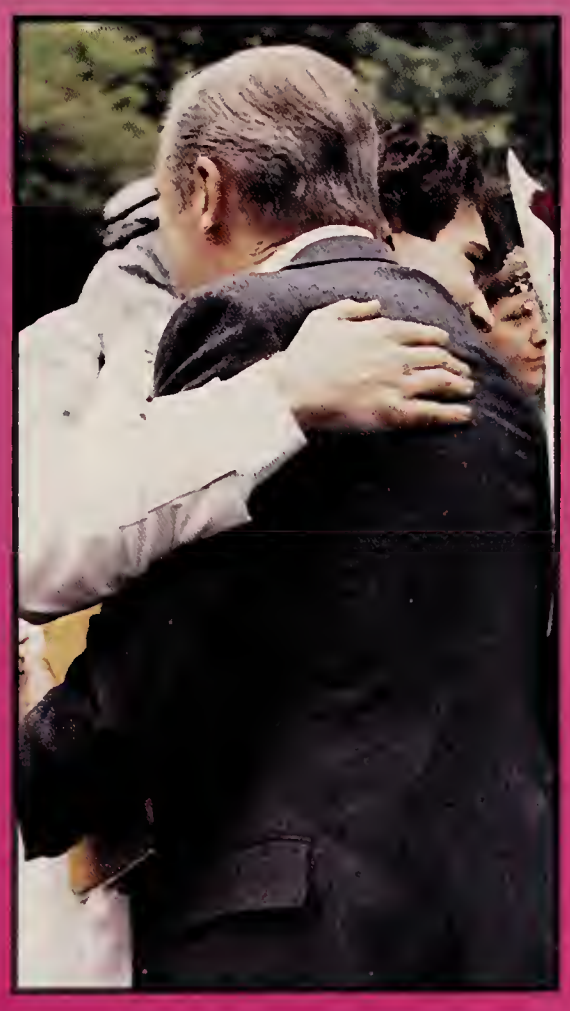
When graduation day rolls around, the Class of '94 will be joined by a new, yet very familiar member—our Principal, Bruce MacDonald. He is a leader, an educator, a friend. He stands guard every morning in front of the school greeting students and faculty– armed with a smile, an inspiring word, his coffee mug and the old Brook School bell which he rings every morning to get us to homeroom on time.

Over his years of service to Weston High School, we have known Mr. MacDonald as a caring man who has combined his strong commitment to excellence with compassion, intensity, wit and humor to improve education and prepare students for the future.

Mr. MacDonald—we are happy that you have chosen to join our class. We look forward to graduating with you. We will always remember you.

—Peter Sayer

Our principal Mr. MacDonald is pictured on this page "doing" many of the things we have come to know him for — but what about riding a horse?



Do you remember the time when

SENIORS

"Time After Time." The Senior Class has much to remember. As we flip through this section we'll see the faces of all the seniors. We'll see how grown up they are now and how young they once were. We'll see their personal quotes and messages to families and friends. It makes us sad to see them go, but all great things must come to an end and the Class of '94 must leave. If you want some thing to remember them by, there's always the Senior Section!

THESE ARE THE TIMES TO Remember

"Time for Class." But we sometimes forget to to thank our teachers and the rest of the staff. So we've created the Student Faculty Section especially for them. Another reason for this section is that when the time comes that you want to look back and see how geeky you were as a freshman, or what your classmate's names were, you can look them up here. This section and the whole yearbook will make sure you never forget these times because . . .

Worked at "Bonding"

The Junior Class of 1995 enjoyed a very active and successful year led by class officers Josh Winston, Karen Yen, Lindsey Prickett, Laurel Coppock and Dara Bourne.

There were numerous events on the class agenda. We held a very profitable car wash early in the fall and had a real blast at Spooky World on Halloween.

After recovering from the P.S.A.T.'s—Amy Schaubert, Shauna London and Kyra Bateman organized a successful Oscar-Winning Auction which was held in February. After this we began plans for the prom which took place in May and was a big success.

Through all of these spectacular events, the class bonded during this our second-to-last year here at Weston High School. Juniors, have a great summer and look forward to reuniting next year as the Senior Class!

Special thanks go to our parent advisors—Mrs. Schaubert, Mrs. Prickett and Mrs. Carr; and also our class advisors—Jill Carter and Howie Nield. Their work never goes unappreciated.

Considers "SLUMP TIME"

What is Sophomore year all about, you ask? Is it the year of the famous Sophomore slump? Is it the year of driving with your parents since you've only got your permit?

Yes, it's all of that, but here at Weston High School the Class of '96 has got a lot more going for them than most.

Our class has sold all of those "Go Wildcat" buttons that you've seen at the field hockey tournaments, at the football games and many other athletic events.

We may have a limited number of drivers, but that doesn't stop us from going out and having fun. Parties? Yes, thank you upperclassmen, Abby and Ohmar.

Class of '96 things are looking better all the time. Next year we will have two years behind us and licenses in our pockets. So the next time your trying to smile after a long class, just remember we are already half of the way there. To what? To graduation on the Town Green, of course!

Questions From The Class

Trying to write something about the Freshman class that was interesting, unique and even a little humorous was a little difficult. What could I write that wasn't the same old "high school wasn't what we (the freshmen) expected?"

Looking through past yearbooks, I discovered that the seniors seemed to state their departing impressions of Weston High School, so why couldn't we give our entering impressions of Weston High School?

Here are "The Most Asked Questions by the Class of '97."

(When we become sophomores, all of this will become apparent, but for now it something we must ponder.)

—When will I get my frees? Study halls really stink.
—Why do they turn the heat so low in this school, are they trying to freeze us?
—When are we going to take a class ski trip?
—Why can't the soda machines be turned on during lunch?
—Why aren't there enough chairs and tables in the cafeteria?
—Why is the cafeteria so dirty?
—Why is gym required?
—Why can't the buses drop us off at WHS in the morning?
—Why can't I have lunch with my friends?
—Why does the Guidance Department operate so differently than at WMS?

Our advice to you is to make the most of your free time and remember you can do just what you want to–and have fun.

THESE ARE THE TIMES TO Remember

The Outdoor's Club took its maiden voyage last spring during April break on a trip to the White Mountains. The participants quickly became fast friends.

This October we traveled to the Great Gulf Wilderness. We enjoyed sunshine, snow, awesome foliage, and wet tents (did you ever get rid of those ducks, Hannon?)

Mt. Monadnock came next. Coya, our brave mascot, protected us from a porcupine. But Doug's evil twin sent us forward, and we ate lunch with the snow on the summit.

We are looking forward to many other exciting adventures– a nature walk in Weston, a weekend in Maine, and a back-pack trip in April.

Friends forever: Collin Ahman's magic bat (run Amy); Ania Busza–psychologist?; Lori Clark–Slip,Slip,Boom ("catch her, James"); Liz–no more benedryl; Noel Allain–the speed demon (Washington is still waiting for you); Claire Forgacs–pancakes anyone?; Irene Bassett–can I have a granola bar?; Ann Gowdy–keeping everyone dry; Kevin and Andrew East–practice getting your tent down; and our fearless leader, Mrs. Kresl–Moffatt–"OK guys, what was your favorite part of the trip?"

"Take nothing but pictures, leave nothing but footprints."

Students for Environmental Action are a group of students who are concerned about, and want to help the environment. Under their officers Elizabeth Saunders, Alex Kendall, Shannon Sickels, Danya Reda, and James McCowan, SEA is enthusiastically working to improve environmental awareness at Weston High School.

After years of throwing paper away, SEA has finally re-started the recycling program and has spent countless Conference Periods emptying the blue bins found in the classrooms. This year SEA worked toward raising money for dishes for the cafeteria to go with the dishwasher that they helped acquire last year.

SEA members energetically sold boxes and boxes of Rainforest Crunch bars, keeping up the tradition from past years, as well as sponsoring several other fund raisers.

SEA works outside of Weston High School too. They participated in a coast-sweep beach clean up in the fall and in several projects in the community through the year.

With an incredible participation level, SEA had an extremely successful year and hopes to keep improving the environmental situation at WHS in the future—as well as increase general awareness for the earth among students and adults.

Discussion Group – – Senior Buddies

"We Talk and Make Friends"

A volcano erupts! A boy gets dumped! Parents don't give enough freedom to us. We all listened intently to each other's problems.

Led by group leader David Cope, Discussion Group provided an opportunity for us to share personal problems and goals and to work towards their solution in a confidential setting. The weekly hour-long meetings went by quickly, while we discussed Hanon's dreams and Marcus' social life; and when Kaila's spontaneous remarks sometimes turned into heated arguments. All the while Alan silently observed every one's wild temperaments, ever maintaining his equanimity and happy disposition.

All in all, Discussion Group enabled us to address most of our difficulties while having fun and gaining a few good friends along the way.

Being new to the High School this year, it helped to know that there was going to be someone at the High School who might on occasion say "Hi" to me in the hallway, or help me if I got lost on my way to class. This "someone" was my Senior Buddy, a new program initiated by the Class of 1994.

We received notes from our "Senior Buddies" shortly before school was to begin and first met them on Freshman Orientation day, when they entertained us with a hamburger barbecue. This was quite impressive, considering that they could have been enjoying their summer vacation instead of coming to school that day.

The Freshman-Senior Buddy Program was a wonderful idea, and in most cases, made the transition to the High School a little bit easier. Although each person had their own idea of what the buddy program would be like for them personally, the program had only positive effects. I hope that it continues in the future.

The Asian Student Union is still a fledging group, having organized only last year. Its members include Asians from India, Korea, China and other Asian countries, as well as many members who aren't Asian.

The objectives of this organization are to educate the school and its students about the life of Asians, as well as to share knowledge about the differing cultures of members of the group.

One of the things the ASU did this year was to send a few students to an Asian Conference. Organized by Ellen Choi, the purpose of the conference was to have students from all over Massachusetts congregate and discuss their lives as Asians growing up in America.

We are pleased to have a club of our own because it provides an opportunity for Asian students to get together . Even more importantly, we are able to share parts of our culture and religions with each other and with the rest of the school, dispelling many myths and stereotypes thus helping one another feel more comfortable together.

The ASU is an ethnically multi-cultural group and it is sure to expand at WHS in the years to come.

Black Student Union – – Asian Student Union

"United We Stand "

BSU stands for the Black Student Union and what exactly that is can be summed up in the following words of senior Jennifer Julien:

"The BSU is an organization which was started by METCO and African American students at Weston who wanted to make the most of their Weston experience."

Led by Mr. David Fuller, the BSU headed up activities this year like the Weston–METCO pot-luck supper, the African American College Fair, and the annual Black Student Union dance in the fall.

Another event which is very important to the Black Student Union is the Annual Citrus Fruit Sale which raises money to help help pay for the late bus to Boston.

The Black Student Union not only does great things for METCO, but for the rest of the school as well.

This was a year of new adventures for The Theater Company. In the fall, we created a new play, The King Stag, based on an old fairy tale, and performed it for our usual audiences as well as giving a special "command performance" for the entire student body of Weston Middle School.

In the winter, The Theater Company, for the first time, took a completely student run production to the Massachusetts High School Drama Festival. The production of Shakespeare's Twelfth Night, directed by Shawn Elinoff and adapted by Shawn and Sunil Gandi, represented a great deal of time and effort for all involved.

In the spring, the auditorium was filled with the sounds of Gilbert and Sullivan's comic operetta, The Pirates of Penzance, Theater Company's first foray into the world of operetta and a great change of pace for the school community.

The Theater Company also sponsored many trips throughout the year. Although a proposed winter trip to London had to be cancelled due to insufficient interest (and cash), The Theater Company sponsored very successful trips to a day of acting workshops at Austin Prep in Reading, to Yale Repertory Theater in New Haven and the Huntington Theater in Boston.

And there were, of course, all the usual suspects: the Boston Shakespeare Competition, one act plays, scholarship competitions and even a post-production show video party following The King Stag. It was one of our busiest, most creative years.

This fall the The Theater Company took on a new challenge: the creation of a new adaptation of a famous Italian fairy tale, The King Stag, written in the 1700s by Carlo Gozzi. We began with only the story line and hints about the characters, then, through a mixture of improvisation and creative writing, wrote an original full-length script based on the story. Daily rehearsals consisted of picking up a scene summary, using the tools of comedy improvisation, discussing the improv, then jotting down highlights and thereby building a script.

Simultaneously, we created masks for all the characters, each actor designing his or her own mask by "getting plastered" with Pariscraft, sculpting new facial features on the mask and coordinating mask colors with costumes. When the masks were complete, all actors spent time in the Middle School Dance Studio, working with the masks in the mirrors, developing movement patterns, character voices and comic business that helped complete the characters.

The production succeeded because of the hard work of all involved and also because of two generous grants from WEEFC which enabled the Company to hire local costume artist, Andrea Humphrey, to design and create the many magical and transforming costumes, and a Boston-based composer, Eric Galm, to compose and perform a complete sound score for the show. The score was created using the latest computer sequencing and MIDI technology and performed as a mix of taped electronics and live percussion.

Award-winning student artist Alex Kendall designed the elaborate settings, props and puppets, including the eight foot laughing head and thirteen foot bear. Kurt Ward designed the lights, pyrotechnics and special effects.

This was The Theater Company's biggest and most complex non-musical. The fact that it was written by the ensemble added to our sense of success.

It's never too late to join Wildcat Tracks (and almost never too late to turn in an article). Led by Editors-in-Chief Kate Emans and Darren Levy, the Trax staff can be found at odd hours in the Mac Studio typing, talking, editing, drawing, writing, listening to music, embezzling ad money and sometimes actually getting something done.

The paper, which is produced roughly six times a year, includes editorials, sports, class updates, letters, photos (news), and anything else that shows up in our mailbox or computer drop box. After weeks of work by our dedicated staff assembling the articles on a sophisticated computer program, we cut and paste the sheets and haul the paper off to the printer. There's a true sense of accomplishment at seeing the stacks of professional-looking publications.

So if you want to yell and scream (on paper) about the injustices of mandatory gym, praise the administration, run you own comic strip or report the latest war, earthquake, peace conference, nuclear weapons treaty or political intrigue in Weston, talk to someone on the staff. Help and new ideas are always welcome!

Stockyard -- FBLA

"We Mean Business"

FBLA has been much like the economy of the United States this year—going through a great period of recovery. Thanks to Mr. Clifford O'Conner, FBLA has been able to attend numerous conferences and events–such as the regional FBLA Fall Convention.

At conventions, members attended workshops and seminars such as "The Power of One" and "Turning Dreams Into a Reality." We were also able to meet Future Business Leaders from all over the state and compare our business tactics and experiences with them.

FBLA received more recognition than in past years at these conferences and also in school.

We were led by David Goldman and, as usual, had a terrific turnout of about thirty business-oriented students.

Although many of FBLA's members are veteran seniors, there are some promising underclassmen in the group who have worked their way up in the ranks. With the superior guidance of Mr. O'Connor and the determination of the underclass, Future Business Leaders of America, Weston's chapter of FBLA should be better than ever next year.

If you are interested in joining FBLA, see David Goldman or Mr. O'Connor and maybe you'll find a great future in the business field.

—David Goldman

Do you ever wonder what what the Stockyard actually is? You already know it's the school store where you can go during your lunch-time hours to buy candy, gum, boxer shorts, Weston paraphanelia and sometimes school supplies if you need them.

But why is it called the "Stockyard"? Is there more to it than just an everyday school store. Well, Jennifer Julien says this about it:

"The Stockyard is a great organization which Mr. Clifford O'Connor organized to teach us how to work in every day life and experience its trials and rewards."

The word "stock" comes from the fact that the members of Stockyard, with the help of Mr O'Connor, buy stock in the "Stockyard" and invest this money in the things they sell in the store. Usually they make a pretty high profit through this endeavor. At the end of the year, these profits are divided among the stockholders.

So if you are ever short of something during lunch period visit the Stockyard. If you'd like to try investing your money, talk to Mr. O'Conor or to one of the friendly people you see working at the Stockyard during your lunch periods.

The Big Brother Big Sister Program, developed as an offshoot of Peer Counseling by David Cope, consists of juniors and seniors who visit the Country or Woodland School every week for the entire school year, in an effort to help the children there.

High school student are assigned to a classroom where they will work with an individual student, or a group of students, in an effort to help each develop social or academic skills—or to just become a friend. This provides the younger children with someone to look up to, while also being a rewarding experience for the older students.

The program has been a great success since its inception and many people have benefited from this experience. One can only speculate as to who gets the most out of this —the young children or the high school students.

Big Brother-Big Sister -- Peer Counseling

"We Like to Help"

The Peer Counseling group is made up of juniors and seniors who dedicate their time and energy to helping Middle School eighth graders who will soon be embarking on their high school careers.

Working with David Cope, Peer Counselors must train two hours a week for eight weeks in preparation for the difficult job of advising the younger students. This time is spent learning about issues that eighth graders will face when they enter High School—issues such as eating disorders, drug and alcohol problems, and peer pressures–to name just a few. The high school students are also taught counseling strategies that they will need to utilize.

Eventually these trained counselors meet with the eighth graders to discuss important issues with them; and to help make the transition to High School a little easier for the younger students.

This program provides an invaluable opportunity to both groups—the younger students are given help in preparing for high school; the older students benefit from the opportunity to interact with younger children. They also benefit from having been trained to be counselors.

Math Team -- Science Team

"How Do We Figure?"

While everyone else was watching the soaps or playing Nintendo, a small but dedicated group of students were defending Weston's honor in rigorous test of mathematical prowess. Led by de facto captains Henry Wei and Katie Emans, and their coach Mr. McCowan, the Math Team achieved several accomplishments at Math meets this year.

While Mr. McCowan argued about ambiguous questions in the back room, the team scribbled furiously to solve problems, anxiously compared answers, engaged in psychological warfare with Canton, prayed to the gods of good guessing and ultimately bonded with each other.

These are our favorite math team quotes:

"There must be easier ways to get free food."

"You can learn analytical geometry in the next three minutes, right?"

"Does the team buy me a pizza if their combined total is less than 18?"

"Hey, check out the guy over there that looks exactly like Homer."

"I think I'm going to be an English major."

"We don't look as uncool as that team, right?"

"You said no more than six seniors and nine juniors and seniors combined, right?"

Science Team meets on Tuesdays during Conference Period while members spend that time preparing for each of their individual meets they will attend. Mr Reed leads the team during these meets.

Some of the events are for the creative and inventive—like building a mousetrap boat or constructing a marshamllow tower which is required to stand for at least ten minutes before collapsing.

Other events (usually most of them) involve memorizing facts or doing a science lab (i.e., Aquatic Biology).

Getting within the top six (out of seventeen or eighteen schools) in the league at the end of all the meets is our goal. If we reach that goal, the Science Team is ready for the Regionals and maybe the States.

Caroline Carlson can be credited with the birth of the Poetry Club. The idea for this club germinated last year when Caroline, an aspiring poet, began sharing her ideas about poetry with Mrs. Cottle, who also has a deep interest in writing and reading poetry. Other students, hearing about this new group, began dropping in to join these sessions and an informal club had begun.

This fall, the club became a reality. Although its membership is still small–Caroline, Tchanho Hwang, Shelita Daniels and Mrs. Cottle form the nucleus–they are a dynamite group. They try to meet weekly to talk about and share their personal writings–and all of them write poetry.

Although none of the members have yet been published, they all have hopes and aspirations.

Poetry — Art — Yoga Clubs

"Yes, We're Artistic"

I'll bet you don't often see people doing splits! Well, Carl Valle can do one for you if you ask him. He learned how to flex his body and relax at the same time by joining the Yoga Club. Be sure to check out his performance in the Yoga Club picture on this page.

The Yoga Club originated only last year but it has become very popular,especiallywith underclass members.

Led by Dr. Topakian, an experienced yoga and math teacher, the Yoga Club meets every Wednesday Conference period. Dr. Topakian is an expert teacher who demonstrates a series of yoga positions which his students can imitate. The purpose of these exercises is to create a more relaxed state of mind, while increasing flexibility.

Hopefully, this yoga revival will last. Join us for a refreshing time.

The Art Club has improved its strong standing in Weston High School this year—with great increase in its numbers.

These members participate in a wide range of activities—from painting grafitti on the walls in Waltham, to gracing the walls of the high school with beautiful murals, to taking trips to the movies together.

In addition to being a place to create art, the Art Room has become a haven for those who want to listen to great music and hang out with their Art Club friends.

Led by senior Collin Ahman, who started the Art Club last year, and proctored and guided by the much loved Mr. (MoJo) Moran, the Art Club's success is greatly lauded and there is no doubt this greatness will continue next year.

"Yes, the Art Club is alive and doing their thing."

Peer Mediation -- Student Government Day

"Groups With a Purpose"

Student Government Day is a mock student legislature held at the State House every year for students from all over the state of Massachusetts. Students who attend may sit in on committee hearings and get to meet their own representatives for lunch. This conference does not last for just one day, but actually involves a period of three days.

Politicians such as Michael Dukakis attended the Student Government Conference when they were younger and this may well have been the beginning of their start in politics.

The students who are lucky enough to participate in this event are selected by vote by the members of their school. This year's representatives from Weston were senior Linda Bentley and junior Joshua Winston. They attended the conference with Mrs. Maloney, the Weston advisor.

In preparation for the Student Government Conference, Linda and Josh spent a great amount of time drafting a bill, which they later presented to the entire "legislator". If their bill is selected , it will go through the legislative process just as a real bill does.

Joshua Winston was extremely excited to have been selected to be a student Senator by the other members of the conference.

Student Goverment Day is a great way for students to get a glimpse into the legislative process that affects all of them. Check it out for next year.

STUDENT LEADERSHIP DAY. Joshua Winston, Linda Bentley.

A few years ago, Weston Youth Counselor David Cope, came to the realization that he didn't like it when students had problems with each other and sometimes with teachers, which they couldn't seem to do anything about. He found that many of these problems remained unsolved because the parties involved were unwilling and unable to negotiate a settlement.

In an effort to help correct this situation, Dave created a group called Peer Mediators. These student mediators provide a non-judgemental place for kids to go if they cannot, or do not want to, have their problem solved by an adult. The students who are part of this group have received extensive training in mediation techniques.

Hopefully, if you ever get into a situation where you need some medation, you'll have somewhere to turn, but if you don't—there's always a peer mediator. check with your guidance counselor to find out who the Peer Mediators are if you don't know one.

The International Club interests students who like to participate in culturally enriching activities. This year the major emphasis of the club involved conducting activites aimed at helping people in the United States, as well as in different part of the world.

Concerned about the suffering of the Los Angeles earthquake victims, the members of International Club sponsored an earthquake relief drive. They were thrilled to receive lots of valuable food and clothing which was forwarded to Los Angeles. They also collected Christmas gifts which they donated to a Massachusett's shelter for battered women.

Led by president Maria Valle and advisor Helia da Costa-Poremba, the club sponsored a Halloween "Send a Mini–Pumpkin to a Friend" fundraiser. These pumpkins were especially popular with the seniors, many of whom sent them to their freshman "buddies."

International Club members are unusually culturally smart and very concerned about the world, working hard to help.

Rombas – – International Club

"Broadened Horizons"

The Weston–Rombas Exchange Program, which has been in existence for over forty years, supports a program which sends two Weston students abroad for a year to either Rombas, France or Porto Allegre, Brazil. They also fund the counterpart of this exchange—a Porto Allegre student and a Rombas student coming to Weston for the school year.

We have enjoyed having Nicolas Geraud, Rombas, and Eduardo Beheregaray Porto Allegre, at Weston High School this year. Weston's Nima Samimi is presently having an adventure in France; while 1993 graduate Sunil Gandi only recently returned from spending a winter in Brazil.

The Rombas program has provided a long-lasting cultural link between Weston, Brazil and France. It has helped establish strong friendships and provides an important learning experience for all involved.

Each spring, the Rombas Committee sponsors a fund-raising brunch which is held at the Josiah Smith Tavern. Keep this in mind, if you like delicious food, good company and want to learn more about the program.

If you think you are interested in applying to this program, contact WHS Committee members Alex Lee, Leigh Nolan or Amy Antman for information. Also take a minute to introduce yourself to both Nicolas and Eduardo.

Closeup -- Social Awareness

"Interested In The World"

The Social Awareness Club, led by Nadine Fiebrich and Alison Vaughan, is made up of a group of caring students who are dedicated to helping people—both globally and locally.

Our monthy activities include volunteering at Rosie's Place, a shelter for homeless women and children in Boston. We also hold periodic bake sales to raise funds to continue supporting our Sudanese foster child and this child's village.

When ever there is a national catastrophe, such as an earthquake or hurricane, we always try to do anything we can to help out. We also busy ourselves trying to encourage Weston teachers and students when they are ill.

Some highlights of this year's activities included participating in the City Year Serve–a–thon, during which a group of WHS students worked together to paint a recreation room and an apartment that houses people with AIDS.

The club members would like to thank our advisor Mrs. Fishman for her help and dedication to our causes. Certainly our members are dedicated to helping others, while having fun at the same time. The commitment and compassion of these students has made the Social Awareness Club a success as they continue to make a positive impact on our world community.

CLOSE-UP. Row 1: James Bishop, Beth Khalil, Stacia Peters, Ann Gowdy, Kristin Berkey. Row 2: Nicolas Geraud, Claire Forgacs, Amy Schaubert, Laurel Coppock, Joshua Winston.

Every year, Mr. Taggart takes a group of students to Washington D.C. for the week-long Close-up program.

Students from all over the country are given the opportunity to participate in a well-planned program that will familiarize them with all three branches of government. For instance, they go to the Pentagon, meet with senators and congressmen, visit the Supreme Court and talk to the executive branch. Most of these sessions start with a short prepared speech which is followed by a question and answer session—which is probably the most valuable part of the session.

Another interesting aspect of this program involves pairing schools for the purpose of helping students make friendships with others. Students are also given an opportunity to relax and enjoy themselves, such as spending a day in Georgetown.

This year, the group was small, but was made up of eager, intelligent and patriotic students who have a love for their country and made their trip successful.

Concert Choir -- Girls' Glee

"Sounds Good To The Ear"

Concert Choir is comprised of some of Weston High School's most talented singers. Each member must also attend Girls'Glee, Mixed Chorus and Boys' Glee Club on a regular basis.

Along with the other vocal groups, Concert Choir performs in the Winter Concert and Spring Concert. Many members also sing for the Senior District Festival.

Mixed Chorus -- Boys Chorus

"Make A Joyful Noise"

The Mixed Chorus is the largest singing group in the High School. Made up of both male and female singers, it always performs beautifully under the skilled guidance of Mrs. Taggart.

During the Winter Concert this year, the Mixed Chorus produced an incredible rendition of the "Regina Coelis" by Mozart. At the Music-in-Our School's Concert in March, the Chorus sang a medley from "Phantom of the Opera," as well as another beautiful work at the Pops Concert in the spring.

From this talented group of singers, comes the many, smaller specialized groups.

Boys' Chorus meets every Thursday to practice lovely songs that Mrs. Taggert, our instructor, has picked out for us. We have had a good year, so far, and continue to practice for upcoming concerts.

There are several students from each grade in the group, ranging from base to tenor. We will be losing many good voices when the seniors graduate this spring. We will be sad to see them go and will miss their exceptional voices. Hopefully the eighth grade class will have talented singers that can help us recover next year. We will really need them.

That's about it, so we'll see you around, and come to our concerts!

Orchestra -- Senior District

Senior District consists of the talented musicians in our school who have risen to become the "cream of the crop." They try out to be one of the lucky participants in the Senior District Music Festival. It is a very great honor to be a part of this state-wide competition. These are some of the most talented people at Weston High School.

You can recognize an Orchestra member anywhere by the look of peaceful tranquility on their faces as they leave the Band Room. Our numbers have increased this year with the addition of two vioilsts and two cellists–Erica Cole, Jill Connelly and Sarah and Jess Hindlian. Our devoted violinists have taken great strides this year.

Seniors will miss playing with Mr. Mori next year and hope that the underclasssmen will carry on the wonderful orchestral traditions of fine music.

Band imembers play a variety of instruments—flutes, clarinets, saxaphones, trumpets, trombones, percussion and others. We also pay a variety of music, ranging from marches to semi-classical. We meet four times a week for what is considered a regular class.

Our main appearances are at the Winter Concert in December, The Music In Our Schools Concert in March, The Pops Concert in May, the Senior Class Day Ceremony and graduation.

Several of our members were lucky enough to be chosen for Senior District and several were invited to try out for the All State Music Festival.

Student Council - National Honor Society

"We Represent and Serve"

The National Honor Society was founded over seventy years ago by the National Association of Secondary School Principals. Its purpose is to recognize student's accomplishments and to encourage the development of qualities essential for citizenship in a democratic society. The Weston Chapter was founded in 1955 and is named for Carl Rhoades, a former principal of the Weston High School.

Students are selected for membership by the faculty on the basis of academic achievement, service, leadership and character.

Members chosen to be in the Honor Society last year, as juniors, were Alison Vaughan, Katharine Emans, Alison Tolpin, Henry Wei, and Nicholas Madden. This year's inductees were Ann Gowdy, Nadine Fiebrich, Kristin Lonergan, Kanika Chopra, Linda Bentley, David Goldman, Christopher Melling and Matthew Delduchetto.

Nobody will forget the humorous monthly morning assemblies the school had this year. From Chris Rohter's commentaries and his reading of the morning announcements, to the entire Field Hockey Team's rendition of the National Anthem, the Student Council really got things going.

Led by Mr. Beevers, along with president and vice-president Christopher Rohter and Christopher Melling, the Student Council has done a lot more than host morning assemblies, however.

Did you enjoy the "welcome back to school" barbecue the first day of school, with Mr. Beevers flipping hamburgers? How about the Pep Rally Dance and the bonfire? Certainly you appreciated the newly upholstered chairs in the library, which were done with the help of Mrs. Marsh. We owe the Student Council, and others who helped, a great big thank-you for these, and many other things.

The Student Council has worked to get ideas from all the students and tried to carry them out. They have put a lot of effort into making Weston High School a better place and, in the process, have attempted to bring our school closer together.

Yearbook

"We Made It In Time"

This year's Panorama Yearbook Staff has worked very hard. Having many deadlines to meet throughout the year, the staff has spent many late nights and many a free period working on the yearbook. You would be apt to find any number of staff members working away during Conference Periods in the Yearbook Office.

Comprised of a few diligent workers, the Panorama '94 staff gladly gave their full effort to produce a successful yearbook.

Our advisor, Mrs. Nickeson, spent many long hard hours, working both in the Macintosh Studio and at home, to help us complete everything for the deadlines. Editors-in-Chief, Sara Tanner and Kanika Chopra, worked incredibly hard to make the yearbook spectacular—deciding on the theme, picking out the cover, determining layout style and literally handling hundreds of additional tasks. They depended on their Section editors, Business and Advertising editors, Photography editor and Junior editors, who all did excellent jobs.

Seeing the final product turn out successfully makes all of the time effort spent on the yearbook worhtwhile. The staff sincerely hopes you enjoy reading the book as much as we enjoyed creating it.

SPORTS

"Time-in Time-out." A big part of a Wildcat's time commitment is devoted to playing a sport. From the high excitement of the Field Hockey Team's State Final appearance, to the Football Team's four year sweep of Wayland, memories will not be forgotten. From the very first time out on the field, to the whistle signifying the end of the last game of the season, all the Wildcat teams had a ball. Busting Loose

The football team demolished Wayland at the traditional Thanksgiving game

This year's football team proved its strength by winning its last four games–the final one a Thanksgiving Day rout against traditional arch rival Wayland on the opponent's home field.

The team had a rough start. In fact, mid-point in the season, their record was two and four. At that time, Nick Madden prophesied the outcome of the season by writing "6-4" on his hand.

But by the second half of the season the team seemed unstoppable. Fine coaching coupled with the determination of all the players gave the team a final record of six and four.

The senior contingent of the team led the rest of the players through good and bad and certainly deserved a strong finish to the season–and particularly deserved their win over Wayland, the fourth in as many years. This is the last season of football for these seniors unless some play collegiate ball .

Since most of the offensive and defensive linemen were seniors, players will be needed next year to take over these positions. The backfield will be almost the same next year, consisting mostly of juniors. These undergraduates will be back, hopefully taking Weston to an undefeated season.

The behind the scenes work of the underclassmen throughout the season, the playing of the whole team, superb coaching and the dedicated spirit of Weston athletes will bring Weston victories next year, and maybe a superbowl.

A Step Ahead

The girls' soccer team qualified for States for the third year in a row

The Girls' Soccer team kept the tradition going and qualified for the State Tournament for the third year in a row. It came down to the last game against Bedford for Weston to qualify, but spirit and determination enabled the team to beat Bedford easily.

Our new coach, Franco Bruno, brought great knowledge about the game of soccer and this was a key to our winning season. He also brought along a positive attitude and was as dedicated to the team as we were.

There were many highlights during the season which included our tie against Acton-Boxboro and our win against Westford Academy. The games against Concord-Carlisle and Lincoln-Sudbury were losses but the team played two of the best games of the season. Under the lights at Wayland, the team was so pumped that the Warriors didn't have a chance.

Now the season is at an end and the players will never forget how the captains Holly Gutelius and Kristin Lonergan brought everyone together and left us many memorable experiences—Tanos, trick-o-treating at Mr. Walker's house, breakfasts, Rio Grandes, pool party, Free Willy (thanks Gwenn) and the embarrassing outfits everyone wore in fear of Holly and Kristin's so-called punishments.

The JV team led by Jodie Zinna compiled an impressive record considering they had no goalie and a minimum number of players.

Without the return of the seniors–Holly, Kristin, Sarah, Sybil and Cristina–Weston will be at a great loss, but the returning players will carry on the winning tradition.

Sweet Victory

The Wildcats came back to thrash Wayland on their own field

Another boys' soccer season has come and gone. Although the team failed to qualify for the state tournament, the Wildcats competed valiantly this year in the perennially difficult Dual County League. Led by senior co-captains Ben Smith and Josh Kattef, the team posted a 5–11–2 record. However, this record was not a valid indication of how well the Weston boys played this fall. Heartbreaking defeats against Bedford (2-1), Acton Boxboro (1-0, 2-0) and Lincoln Sudbury (3-1) could have easily gone in the Wildcat's favor, and would have gained this team the recognition it deserved.

The team was anchored by its defensive wall, headed by keeper Brian Coburn. Smith and Kattef cored the fullback line, along with Pete Kung and Toru Bando. The Wildcat's midfield had potent power with Fritz von Rumohr, Mike Carr, Mike Wysocki and Kent Spellman continuously amazing all onlookers with precision passing. The ball control and skill of freshmen Dave Menachery and Nick Forte had a huge impact on Weston's success. Forwards Stefan Lysak, Alex Lee, and Pete Sayer netted numerous goals, and Dave Sardilli boosted Weston's speed. George Smith and Henry Wei added depth to Weston's lineup.

Earning individual honors were sophomore Brian Coburn, who was elected to the DCL All Star First Team, along with second-teamers Ben Smith, Fritz von Rumohr and Mike Carr.

Although the 'cats did not attain their goal of a tournament berth, the team definitely enjoyed this season, and was always a tough match for even the strongest teams in the league.

Awesome Team

Who would have guessed on that hot summer morning in August as we ran around the track at 7:30 AM, while most of our classmates were home in bed, that it would all pay off in the end?

But how much would it pay? First, we were named DCL co-champions. Next we became Northern Sectional champions and then Eastern Massachusetts's champions. Finally we achieved the status of runner-up State Division I champions. Quite a pay-back!

What did it take for us to get this far? A pregnant JV coach, a gym teacher freshman coach and a renowned field hockey coach with 401 career wins under her belt, were a major factor. Our captains were another. Linda Bentley, Kanika Chopra, and Stephanie Benotti gave it all they could in the cheers category. But most importantly, we were a team and together we were champions.

Run to the Top

The X-Men rebounded to gain respect from their opponents and coaches

The Wildcat Harriers blossomed into a strong team this year under the experienced tutelage of coaches Don Duncan and John Monz—rebounding from a tragic '92 season.

The boys' team went six and two, and had several impressive finishes in various invitational meets. At the All-League Meet, the boys' placed third of nine, and three team members earned the distinction of DCL All-Star status—James McCowan, Michael Treadway, and David Arkema.

The team went on to the Eastern Mass Class D Meet, where they raced well enough to take home the second place plaque. In addition, they earned a trip to the All-State Meet. There, on the killer course of Northfield Mountain, the team finished tenth of sixteen Division II schools.

After the completion of the season, the team ended up finishing third in the Michael Mahon Middlesex News Cross-Country Poll, and had three runners on the "Top 25" list of individual runners.

As the team is graduating only one senior, next year is full of tremendous potential successes.

At the Class Meet, Karen Yen and Maria Valle individually placed well enough to go to the All-State Meet, where both crowned successful seasons with solid races. Both Karen and Maria also shared success on the "Top 25" list of individual Harriers in the Mahon Cup standings.

New Traditions

The acrobatic cheerleaders perform double hitches and high extensions

Where would our teams be without the omnipresent pep of the cheerleaders? These dedicated girls practice as much as the sport's teams, working hard after school in the cafeteria under the tutelage of Mrs. Kaskin. Regardless of the opponent, the girls always bring their smiles and acrobatics to help jumpstart the Wildcat fans.

The football cheerleaders never failed to turn the bleachers into a screaming, stomping mass of bodies with their "Boogaloo" cheer. Meanwhile, the basketball cheerleaders transformed the gym into a frenzied conglomeration of excited fans with "Weston how ya' doin'."

The cheerleaders inspired the players and fans, and insured that there would always be a crowd at a Weston football or basketball game. While other cheerleading squads put on phony smiles and talked like robots, our girls were always sincere in their enthusiasm, igniting the crowd. The football cheerleaders were renowned for their perfect pyramid formation, while the basketball squad earned respect around the league with a tremendous two-tiered tower.

Thanks to the cheerleaders, Weston games were always exciting, regardless of the outcome. Keep up the good work, girls!

Another Success

The Red Tide won the Division Two State Title , and got their 300th win

This year's Red Tide had another successful season, outdistancing Longmeadow for the Division Two State title and giving Coach Foley his 300th win over Lincoln Sudbury.

The GLOWS (Gorgeous Ladies of Weston Swimming) were led by co-captains Meg Davidson and Ali Vaughan who competed in the IM, distance freestyle and backstroke. Seniors Jen Davidson and Cathy Bowermaster played a strong part in the sprints along with Margaret O'Brien and Amy Connelly who were both on school record setting 200 and 400 freestyle relays (along with Vaughan and Jen Davidson). Lindsay Prickett and Judy Korik made strong showings in the breast stroke. Great Spirit

The 'Cats had a season of growth and reache d new heights

While losses dominated the stats, the Wildcats produced a season of growth. New coach Wally (straight from the English Department) Beevers drilled the 'Cats to new defensive and offensive heights. While the snow played around with the schedule, the 'Cats played their hardest on the court.

During Christmas break, the Wildcats competed in the second Watertown Tournament. losing a tough game to Millbury, but defeating Mount Alvernia to capture third place. Maria Valle earned a spot on the all-tournament team. In January, close games at Newton South, Boston Latin and Concord-Carlisle kept the Wildcats intense. In a solid game against Mount St. Joseph, a much-anticipated win was grabbed. The action continued through the final week, with exciting rematches at Boston Latin and Newton South. On defense, Tye Burrell drove fear into her opponents with tight coverage and quick steals, while Kelly Johnson ruled under the basket, grabbing the rebounds.

The Wildcats demonstrated their team spirit off the court, as well, finding inspiration at "Rudy" and "Blue Chips". Through dinners and breakfasts, the team grew closer. And, of course, Goofy kept us entertained.

The road toward victory continues next year, with most of the Varsity and JV returning. The 'Cats eagerly await a promising 1994-95 season.

Comeback Wins

The Wildcats found the "spark" they needed to go on to a winning season

Down fourteen points against Westford Academy midway through the second half, the whole team felt they needed a spark. It was provided by junior All-Star, Peter DeLea, who came out of nowhere off a missed shot and slammed the ball home!

This became the first of many comeback wins for Weston, but they came up short too many times and the season ended with the Wildcats two games out of the playoffs.

This was a disappointment for senior All-Star Captain Keith Mohammed and Seth (Big Country) Wyman, as this was supposed to have been the 'Cats big year. However, due to a season-ending injury to starting point guard Mike Carr, in his first game, and a mid season ankle injury to DeLea, they were kept out of the Division 3 tournament.

Sporting a five and nine record, which made the team statistically ineligible for the tournament, the team could have packed it in. Instead they buckled down and went on to win five of their last six games. This included wins against Wayland (they killed 'em) and power-houses Boston Latin and Dover-Sherborn. This left the team with a respectable .500 record.

Speed–Strength

The Indoor Track Team had their share of success this season

The Wildcat Indoor Track Teams didn't exactly blow away the competition this winter, but they weren't without their share of success.

Led by captains Nick Madden (DCL Champ, shotput), Dave Sardilli (first in DCL forty–yard dash), Ellen Walpert, and Karen Yen (fourth place in All-League Meet two mile)–the two teams compiled a four and seven record.

Eager to earn one of the famed pizzas from Coach Monz, many athletes turned in excellent performances at the big meets.

Other stars included Sherrif Rudolph in the dash and high jump; hurdlers Elise Estes and Alaina Giampapa; distance runner Mike Treadway, who set a school sophomore record in the mile at 4:39.1; and the girl's shuttle hurdle team (Elise Estes, Alaina Giampapa, Melissa Feinstein, and Kate Davies), who also set a new school record of 28.9 seconds.

While the team has already improved from last year when they compiled a two and seven record for the boys and a three and six record for the girls, they have a great deal to look forward to as more success is sure to come. The girls are graduating only one senior, and while the boy's team will lose several stars, the depth of young potential talent is impressive.

In the short future, Weston may yet return to the indoor track power it once was.

The Enforcers

Weston 'rasslers will continue to be a force in years to come

Head coaches Dave Baldanza and Kevin Thomas again led the wrestling team through an amazing season. Coming off of last year's dominance, the team continued to rule, winning all but one of its meets. Opponents non-enthusiastically ventured to "the pit," sensing that they could not defeat the Wildcats on their home mat. Weston ran over its challengers, sidelined only momentarily by a close loss to Wayland, racking up victories.

Young talent insures that the 'rasslers will still be a force in years to come. Freshman Nick Forte was impressive at 103 pounds, and sophomore George Smith showed great potential as well. Veterans juniors Jack Ryan and Mike Baldanza (119 and 125 lbs.) wreaked havoc, while senior tri-captain Tchanho Hwang was unstoppable at 130 pounds. Sophomore Kirk Grant (135 lbs.) should be a state contender next year, and "Hollywood" Josh Lukaris (130 lbs.) will help him fill in the middle weights. Seniors Dave Goldman (145 lbs.), Paul Caruso (160 lbs.) and Todd Whitridge (171 lbs.) always made an impact on the mat. Junior Tony Baldanza (152 lbs.) advanced to the New England tournament along with Hwang, going undefeated in meet competition. Senior tri-captains John Pappanikou (140 lbs.) and Brain McShane (160 lbs.) showed leadership and ferocity on the mat. Sophomores Will Harding and Pat Purcell also demonstrated their skill, as did junior Byron Knight. Veteran sophomore Tyler Lauback will be unstoppable in future years, following his successful season at heavyweight.

Weston's 1993-1994 All-Stars

Weston has a history of athletic excellence. This year was no different. The school finished third in the Division Three Dalton Award, given for all-around athletic record. The Field Hockey Team was named the Eastern-Massachusetts champion, while the Wrestling and Cross-Country Teams each finished second in their section. The Swim Team brought home the Division Two State Championship for the second year in a row. Coach Peter Foley earned his 300th victory with the Red Tide and Coach Marie Butera's field hockey squad helped her earn her 400th victory.

The following individuals have earned Dual County League All-Star status for their respective sports. Congratulations!

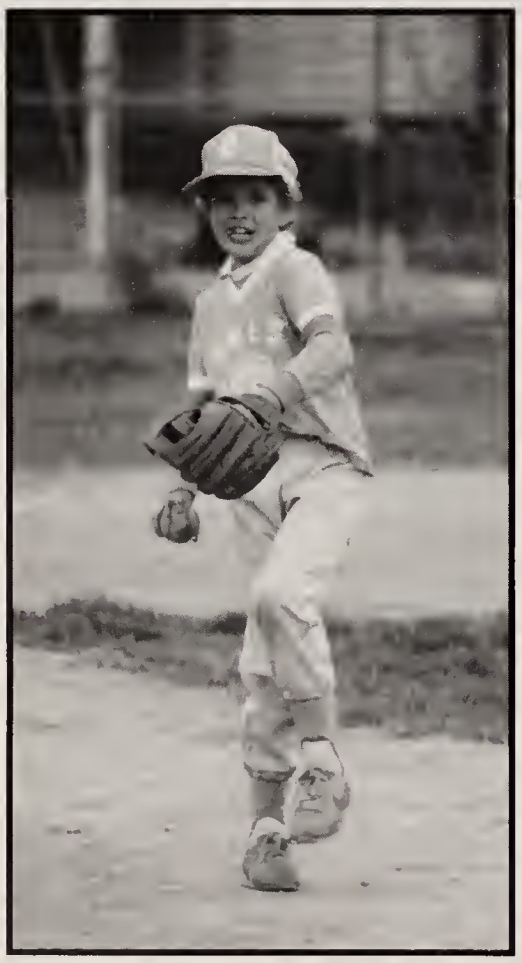
THESE ARE THE TIMES TO Remember

Congratulations to the Class of 1994

Matt,
Thank you for the love, joy and jokes you've shared with us. You've done it "your way," and we're proud of that.

LYMDMS



Dear Chris,

You embody all the qualities I could ever want from a son.

May your future be all that you hope for.

All my love,
Dad

The time has come for us to head to the triple (and soon to the double). It has been a wonderful ride! We thank you for the balance you have given our family and wish you good luck on the new slopes. You take with you great technique and recovery skills—the basics needed to find joy in every condition.

Congratulations Tom and the Class of '94
We are proud of you, too! and thank you for your kindness to our family

Love,
Mom and Dad (Sandy and E.Q. to friends – no more "Mr. and Mrs. B", please . . .) and Ned

NICKY,

WHAT A FINE JOB YOU'VE DONE. WE ARE SOOO PROUD! WE LOVE YOU AND WISH YOU A WONDERFUL FUTURE.

To: JOE

After so many years together, I feel like you should be preparing for college with me. How do you expect me to survive without my sidekick? Rachel without Joe is like Beavis without Butthead, Ren without Stimpy, goat cheese without sundried tomatoes! You've been my best friend, my worst enemy and everything in between. Keep dancing to your own drummer and never compromise yourself for anybody! You know I'll always be here for you to talk to, no matter how far away I go. Be careful with yourself and remember who's looking out for you. I'll miss you and I love you! p.s. my room better look the same when I come home!!

Love, Ro-Ro.

You have filled our lives with laughter and joy, compassion and caring, enthusiasm and energy. Your ability to give 100% in everything you do fills us with pride!!

Never stop smiling or the sun will stop shining for all those who love you!

We love you forever,

Mom, Dad, Tod, Mike +Cookie

Even though I never say it, you are an inspiration to me and everyone around you!! I wish I could keep my eye on you forever, but I know you'll always make me proud!!

I Love You,

Tod

What can I say–we've been through it all from handcuffs to "Lonergan's–Luscious" to all of the laughter we've shared over Dad's antics!!

I'll miss you and love you forever,

Mike

ODE TO THE CLASS OF 1994

In Freshman year you showed us how
This class of yours could make us proud.
The chicken dinner before the play
Was so successful it paved the way
For other things to do for fun,
Like Riverside Park and the Junior Prom.

In Sophomore year you were so cool, at the Frosh-Soph dance at Meadowbrook school.
Following that, you sold Valentine Candy,
Ate Japanese Food, held the Sophomore-Semi.
Yet, the moment that you proved you were stars
Was when Seventy-five kids washed 300 cars.

Your Junior Year was totally incredible!
You made the Auction extremely profitable!!
Then you shared your soul with one and all, and Started your Bonding before "Cinderella's Ball"
Which everyone said was an awesome event.
You truly created a magical moment!

With Buddies galore you matured into Seniors
And were ready to tackle some serious issues.
From Concession Stands and Pancake Breakfasts,
To College "App's." and Harassment Policies,
You showed you were smart, and you were strong,
Which is really something we knew all along.

This is why we can say, with tears in our eyes,
And a hug and a kiss, as we bid our good-byes,
That we know you'll succeed in whatever you do
As you leave Weston High and go on to pursue
Adventures, ambitions, the World, and more. . .
You were the Very Best Class. . . . . 1994!

Your Advisors and Your "Moms"
Iona Nickeson, Joan Belkin, Pat Gowdy, Helia daCosta-Poremba, Kitty Smith

Noah,
You showed great courage in your growing up.

To Josh,

Wanting everything is easy, figuring out what you need is what's difficult.

If you want to learn and grow, listen to people with whom you disagree.

Giving is often much more satisfying than getting.

It is better to know a few good questions than all the answers.

We are so proud of you and love you very much. Best wishes to you and to the Class of '94.

Dear Roro,
Although I've heard stories that suggest you weren't thrilled when Mom & Dad brought me home from Oak Bluffs Memorial Hospital that fine July morning of 1978, you have always been there for me, whether you wanted to be or not. Sure, there were a few years, when we didn't really know what to make of each other. But, we've both learned valuable lessons from one another. You learned to never knock someone else's card house down, and I learned that it could be dangerous to get my toy cars tangled in your hair on purpose. But above all, you've taught me that big sisters really do come in handy. With your intellect, sense of humor, and warm heart, I know you can go anywhere you want to. I love you and wish you the best of luck.
Make us proud!
Love,
Your bro, Joey

Who's going to take up the slack?

We love you! Mom, Dad, Joe & Lily

To Rachel,
You were our very first grandchild,
And you occupy a special niche in our hearts;
But, it's the many wonderful facets of Rachel
That, from all others, set you apart.
Mere words cannot describe you,
Even when expressed in French;
"Joie de Vivre" and "Elan Vital" don't cut it,
Not even the Yiddish word "MENSCH".
You are so full of goodness, understanding, and love,
Your "Mama" and "Papa" adore you, as do your parents and God above;
Our Love and Good Wishes go with you
To the college "of your choice" (?),
Above all the noise and clamor of life,
We always hear our Rachel's sweet voice.

Love, Mama and Papa

Our Last Times Together. . .

ABOVE. Collin Ahman is pretty laid back about the second semester of senior year.

. . . Our Best Times to Remember

ABOVE RIGHT. Tchanho Hwang, David Arkema, Collin Ahman and Tim Britton were already thinking about graduation early in the fall.

RIGHT. Peter Sayer, Todd Lonergan, Kristin Lonergan, Fritz Von Rumohr and Holly Gutelius give each other a

ABOVE. Chris Giampapa and Jamie Bishop are great pals who will make every effort to keep in touch after graduation.
